

It is Hard to Understand

Why a man will spend Good Time and Money in a custom tailor shop, when he can buy STEIN-BLOCH SMART CLOTHES on his way home to dinner.

Signed with this Label:

They are stylish from collar to heel. They fit all over. They are made honestly, by honest craftsmen who know how. They range from sack suits for sultry summer, to silky togs for society's swirl; catchy covert top-coats, rain coats with snap in them, and regular Spring overcoats, just right in the perpendicular; a wardrobe for a fastidious dandy or layout for a staid man of business.

NEGRO HARRIS GETS FATAL WOUND

was at once taken to the police station. The patrol wagon took Harris to the hospital and the doctors are now endeavoring to abstract the bullet from his abdomen.

"I think that Harris has small chances of recovery."

"I had a talk with the man under arrest at the police station. He admits having the gun in his possession but states that he does not know how he secured it. He says that he had no intention of shooting Harris and that he had had no trouble with him during the day. Geneau is a middle-aged man. He says he has been in the navy about twelve years."

"F. J. Dillon and Charles Simpson both witnessed the shooting."

At two o'clock this morning the doctors had finished their operation. Harris was then unconscious and it was impossible to say whether, or not, he would recover. The ball was not removed but the wound was sewn up. The outcome is regarded as very doubtful.

VALUABLE CARGO LEAVES PORT TODAY

The giant freight steamer Arizonan nearly completed loading over a half million dollars worth of sugar at the Railway wharf yesterday and will depart today for Kahului and Hilo where she will complete a cargo of 11,000 tons of Hawaiian sugar which she is to take around the Horn to New York.

Although thousands of dollars worth of sugar were being transferred from the Oahu Railway warehouses during every hour yesterday to the hold of the steamer there was little excitement. The sugar carriers took the bags of sugar along the warehouses at a fast rate and left it on the smooth chutes in the towers, from which it slid rapidly down to the gang of stevedores working in the bowels of the ship. There a crowd of sweaty men were packing around huge bags of sugar. Freight cars, loaded with sugar direct from Oahu plantations, were run alongside the ship on the wharves and their loads dumped quickly into the ship. And there is a great art in stowing away a sugar cargo as the thousands of bags must be placed in such a way that their weight will be the same on each side of the ship, as a heavily laden sugar vessel must leave port with an even keel in order to safely buffet the angry seas met with on the long voyage around the Horn. It will be remembered that when the steamer Conemaugh left this port for New York she had a bad list, she was heavily loaded, and many people gave this as a reason for the loss of the vessel.

When the Arizonan leaves Hilo her captain will have under his control property valued at nearly two million dollars. The vessel itself is worth pretty close to a million dollars and 11,000 tons of sugar, at its present price, is worth over $800,000. This may be the most valuable single shipment of sugar that Hawaii has sent to the Atlantic seaboard.

The Arizonan is of 8672 tons gross, measuring 486.5 feet over all, 57 feet in breadth and 32 feet in depth of hold; her engines are twin-screw, quadruple, 28, 38 and 60 inches, with a 26-inch stroke, and she has three single boilers, with Howden system of forced draft, their lengths being 10 feet 4 inches and diameter 14 feet 3 inches, with a working pressure of 213 pounds; the propellers have four steel blades, with a surface of 61 square feet.

Captain Lyons commands the vessel.

FREIGHT FOR THE KONA COFFEE KING

Among the freight which goes out today on the steamer Mauna Loa for Kona ports is a consignment of wooden boxes which are to be used by W. W. Bruner, known as "The Coffee King of Kona," in packing the product of his pineapple canning factory at Napoona.

LAVINIA OFF FOR MORE BOOTY

The lucky little schooner Lavinia, Captain Weisbarth sailed yesterday for Laysan Island and French Frigate Shoals. Captain Weisbarth, decked out in a gorgeous new suit of clothes, and wearing a big cigar and a red buttonhole, left port in quite a different frame of mind to that which he had on former times of departure for the small islands to the westward. He goes out now with pockets bulging with cash, the proceeds of some of the great quantity of booty he secured from the wrecked French bark at French Frigate Shoals. Weisbarth goes to Laysan Island first. He may return with a cargo of guano or may go to the Shoals later and bring back another load of ship's gear from the wrecked Frenchman.

ARGYLL TO VISIT PORT REGULARLY

The oil carrier Argyll came into port yesterday morning after an absence of about four months from this port. The vessel was laid up at Oakland for about three months on account of the huge supply that had been collected here, preventing the discharge of the cargoes of any more oil carriers until the demand should be greater. Now the plantations are using so much oil that the vessel will be able to run regularly from San Francisco to this port. Captain Gilboy took advantage of the enforced idleness of his vessel by paying a visit to the St. Louis Exposition. The Argyll brought about 25,000 barrels of oil and will possibly be discharged in time today to sail for San Francisco.

Quarantine Men Get Jobs Again.

About a dozen men who were laid off from the Quarantine Service a few months ago on account of the appropriation from which they were paid running out will return to work today. This means that the Quarantine launch "Oahu" which had to be put out of commission on account of the cutting down of the force will again be put in commission.

The Mails.

Mails are due from the following points as follows:

San Francisco—Per Alameda, today. Yokohama—Per Mongolia, July 8. Sydney—Per Sonoma, July 12. Victoria—Per Manuka, July 2.

Mails will depart as follows:

San Francisco—Per Alameda, July 6. Yokohama—Per Korea, July 8. Victoria—Per Mowera, July 27. Sydney—Per Manuka, July 2.

Rosamond Sailed.

The schooner Rosamond sailed for San Francisco yesterday morning, taking a cargo of 1800 tons of sugar.
